Online Student Loan Counseling

Save some time!

- Before you graduate (or if you drop below half-time attendance), regulations require that you complete an exit counseling session for your Federal Stafford Loans.
 - Mapping Your Future's Online Student Loan Counseling allows you to fulfill the exit counseling requirement anytime, anywhere—all from the convenience of a computer.
 - The counseling session provides information about how to manage your student loans after college.
 - Mapping Your Future protects counseling data via a secure Web server and the use of password protection. At the end of online counseling, you will enter information on a secure form. Your school then retrieves this information from the secure, password-protected site.
